College Life Planning Releases Updated Online College Admissions Prep Course on June 5th, 2011 to help high school teens prepare for college admissions, financial aid, and finding scholarships

San Diego – May 19, 2011 – Students nationally can now take advantage of College Admissions Prep (CAP for short) with the new, improved, and updated online course offering comprehensive college prep counseling. Offered on a rolling release, students can enroll any time they like with direct access to college prep counseling for up to 365 days after enrollment.

Ideal students for College Admissions Prep include freshman, sophomores and juniors in high school because they can prepare themselves for the college admissions process early and increase their chances of admission into selective colleges. Also, they will have the opportunity to find and win college scholarships.

CAP is a 12-session comprehensive college counseling tool that can be used by high school students, parents, or guidance counselors to help prepare them for the college admissions process. CAP utilizes videos, interactive discussions, essay submissions, peer reviewed concepts, lessons, and interaction/counseling from expert Independent Educational Consultants in the San Diego area.

[PRESS RELEASE: ONLINE COLLEGE PREP COURSE]

CAP has been tested and approved by AVID students in San Diego County and you will find that your students will start talking about college, preparing for college admissions, and learning how to better package themselves for their ideal college. They will learn how to find their ideal college. They will learn how to pay for their ideal college. Taking this course will help increase your student's chances of admission, and success through the college admissions process.

CAP will be re-released June 5th, 2011 and will be available on a rolling admission throughout the entire year. Students will have interaction from CLP advisors, as well as free email consultation for the entire year they are enrolled. Please review the testimonials from some of our former students and feel free to contact me directly if you would like references or to ask more specific questions!

The cost of this course is only $49, and you will find that your student will receive far more in dividends. Enroll your student now, and follow along in the course with them; learn about the intricacies of the college admissions maze, and how to decode the admissions process. Also utilize our free email consultations and Q&A with your student to get the most out of your investment!
